THACKERAY'S DENIS DUVAL.
DENIS DUVAL. A Novel. By W. M. THACKERAY. Author of "Vanity Fair," "Pendennis," "The Newcomes," "Philip," "The Virginians," "The English Humorists,"
"The Four Georges," "Roundabout Papers," &c. With Illustrations. 8vo., paper, 50 cents.

In respect of earnest feeling, fair-searing purpose, character, incident, and a certain loving picturesqueness blending the whole, I believe it to be much the best of all his works. That he fully meant it to be so, that he had become strongly attached to it, and that he bestowed great pains upon it, I trust in almost every page.—[Charles Dickens.]

II.

CARLYLE'S FREDERICK THE GREAT.
HISTORY OF FREDERICK II., called Frederick the Great. By THOMAS CARLYLE. 4 vols., with Portraits, Maps, Plans, &c. 12mo., Cloth, $1.75 per vol.

Mr. Carlyle is about the only living writer whose opinions are of value, even when it is impossible to agree with them. No one is more fond than he of paradox, but few men's paradoxes hint at so important truths. No one with a more autocratic dogmatism sets up strong men as heroes, or condemns the hapless possessors of pot-bellies to infamy; but then his judgments, even where they cannot be confirmed, always enforce some weighty principle which we were in danger of forgetting. And if sometimes happens that neither the hero nor the principles commend themselves, still the thoroughness of the execution, and the fire with which all his writing is instinct, never fail to make a great work.—[London Review.]

The history of Frederick the Great is coming to be Carlyle's opus magnum. Probably the history of Frederick will forever remain one of the finest pieces of literary history, as well as one of the most marvelous attempts at special pleading, extant in our own or any language.—[London Spectator.]

HARPER & BROTHERS

Have Just Published:

DICKENS'S OUR MUTUAL FRIEND. Part
II. In Harper's Magazine for July. Price 25 cents.

Mr. Dickens has never given to the public a conception more suitedly comic in the richest style of grotesque invention than appears in the second part of Our Mutual Friend. It ought to be taken note of at once as positively an event or fact.—[The Reader (London).]

MISS THACKERAY'S COUSIN PHILLIS.
COUSIN PHILLIS. A Tale. By Miss THACKERAY. 8vo., Paper, 25 cents.

A charming little story, ascribed in English journals and circles usually well informed to Miss Thackeray. It is fresh and sparkling.—Evening Post.

The father, indeed, is a creation of genius worthy of the author of "Adam Bede." The narrative is powerful from its simplicity, and the descriptions, or rather indications, of country landscape are fresh and natural.—[World.]

An exquisite story. A narrative of tender pathos, of the utmost simplicity of construction and style, and filled with genius touches of nature. The interest of the story is well sustained, not only by the originality of its plan, but by the skillful, though apparently artless, presentation of its characters.—[N.Y. Tribune.]

DR. SPRING'S SERMONS.
PULPIT MINISTRATIONS; or, Sabbath Readings. A Series of Discourses on Christian Doctrine and Duty. By the Rev. GARDNER SPRING, D. D., Pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church in the City of New-York. Portrait, 2 vols., 8vo., Cloth, $6.

His choicest, richest, most spiritual, edifying, and permanently valuable sermons, these masterly, devotional, and instructive discourses which have made his church a house of worship, and religious improvement through two generations in this great, restless, changing city. Their peculiar excellence consists in a happy unfolding of the deep things of divine truth, bringing out the marrow of the Word of God, with an amount of that undefinable virtue in preaching called wision, which brings the speaker and hearer into holy sympathy. We anticipate from these sermons extensive and permanent usefulness.—[N. Y. Observer.]

* * * The discourses are remarkable for their plainness of statement, and the directness and urgency of their personal appeal. In style they are singularly terse and animated, inclining to the vivacity of the French pulpit. They embrace a wide variety of topics, and exhibit great knowledge of human nature, and no common mastery of the art of persuasion.—[N.
Y. Tribune.]

NINETEEN BEAUTIFUL YEARS;
OR, SKETCHES OF A GIRL'S LIFE. Written by her Sister. With an Introduction by the Rev. R. S. FOSTER.
D. 16mo., Cloth, 90 cents.

It is not often that we are more affected by a simple, beautiful narrative than we have been in reading this book.—
[Christian Instructor.]

A very touching sketch. It is nature in its most endearing aspects.—[Chicago Post.]

A singular, yet a most beautiful book.—[Boston Post.]

There is great beauty and much tenderness in this simple biography, which is brim-full of Christian love and affection.
All such books are estimable in the family circle; and they cannot be too widely circulated.—[Presbyterian Standard.]

BARBARA'S HISTORY.
A NOVEL. By ANNE B. EWANS, author of "The Ladder of Life," &c. 8vo., Paper, 60 cents.

We consider "Barbara's History" to be a thoroughly good book of its kind. It is the fruit of a well-stored mind and a gentle heart. Every page is radiant with the happy memory of a cultivated life.—[Saturday Review.]

It is not often that we light upon a new novel of so much merit and interest as "Barbara's History." It is a very graceful and charming book, with a well-managed story, clearly-cut characters, and sentiments expressed with an exquisite execution. It is a book which the world will like. This is high praise of a work of Art, and so we intend it.—[London Times.]

THE SMALL HOUSE AT ALLINGTON.
A NOVEL. By ARTHUR TROLLOPE. Author of "Rachel Ray," "Orley Farm," "Doctor Thorne," "Fleming Parsonage," "The Bertrams," "The Three Clerks," "The West Indies and the Spanish Main," &c. Illustrated by Miller 8vo., Cloth, $1.25; Paper, 90 cents.

Mr. Trollope has achieved another great success in his own peculiar line.—[Saturday Review.]

Mr. Trollope has written nothing more true or interesting than this admirable representation of our modern social world, with its special temptations, special vices, and special kinds of retribution.—[London Spectator.]

The characters are all living human beings.—[London Ath-eum.]

SPEKE'S AFRICA.
JOURNAL OF THE DISCOVERY OF THE SOURCE OF THE NILE. By JOHN HANNING SPEKE, Captain
H. M. Indian Army, Fellow and Gold Medalist of the Royal Geographical Society, Hon. Corr. Member and Gold Medal of the French Geographical Society, &c. With Maps and Portraits, and numerous Illustrations, chiefly from Drawings by Captain GRANT. 8vo., Cloth, uniform with Livingstone, Bartsch, Burton, &c. Price $1.50.

A great story plainly told.—[Atheneum.]

A monument of perseverance, courage, and tempe-displayed under difficulties which have perhaps never been equalled.—[London Times.]

More enchanting than a fairy tale, more exciting than a novel, its greatest charm is yet that every word of it is true.—
[Daily News (London).]

MISS EVANS'S NEW BOOK.

Will be Published This Day.

MACARIA.

A new Novel, by AUGUSTA J. EVANS, author of "Bleulah,"
"Inez," &c.

The publisher deems the bare announcement of a new book, by the author of "Bleulah," sufficient to insure the largest advance orders of any novel of the season. "MACARIA" is a novel of great power, fully sustaining the reputation of the author. The first edition of Five Thousand is fast passing through the press, to be followed by others. Orders already received exhaust our first supply, and Booksellers should send early to secure first copies.

One volume, 12mo., 350 pages. Price $1.50.

THE MOST WONDERFUL HIT OF THE DAY.

READY TO DAY.

MUNRO'S TEN-CENT NOVEL, NO. 17.

LONG-LEGGED JOE;

OR, THE DEMON OF THE WOODS.

This brilliant story of Hunter's Life in the Woods and Fishes is written by one of the most distinguished writers of the present day. Every page is alive with incidents and the most vividly drawn pictures of the life of the woods, and of the wilds with which others cause you to shed tears as fast as Arabian trees their medicinal gum.

The hero of the story, Long-Legged Joe, is a regular Backwoods Philosopher, full of quaint sayings as are famous Samuel Webber himself; while others cause you to

"Stampy Bill," "Pikles," the lonely Jessie, the eccentric
"Stampy Bill," and Jack Wilson, the chaf that "Stampy Bill" died to sleep, dead drunk. For sale by all newsagents, and sent postpaid to readers of the Tribune.
